

Basic use of pbwiki for GTP Learning Circles

This is the Learning Circle main page

Notice the 4 red circles:

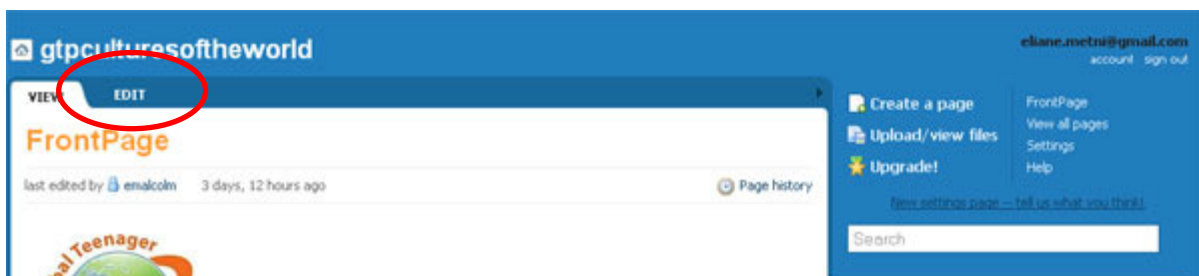

1. In order to contribute to the wiki, you need to log in
2. The SIDEBAR enables you to navigate the wiki
3. The EDIT button enables you to edit pages
4. The CREATE a page button enables you to create a page

To log in click on "Log in" on the top of the page or on the side of the page

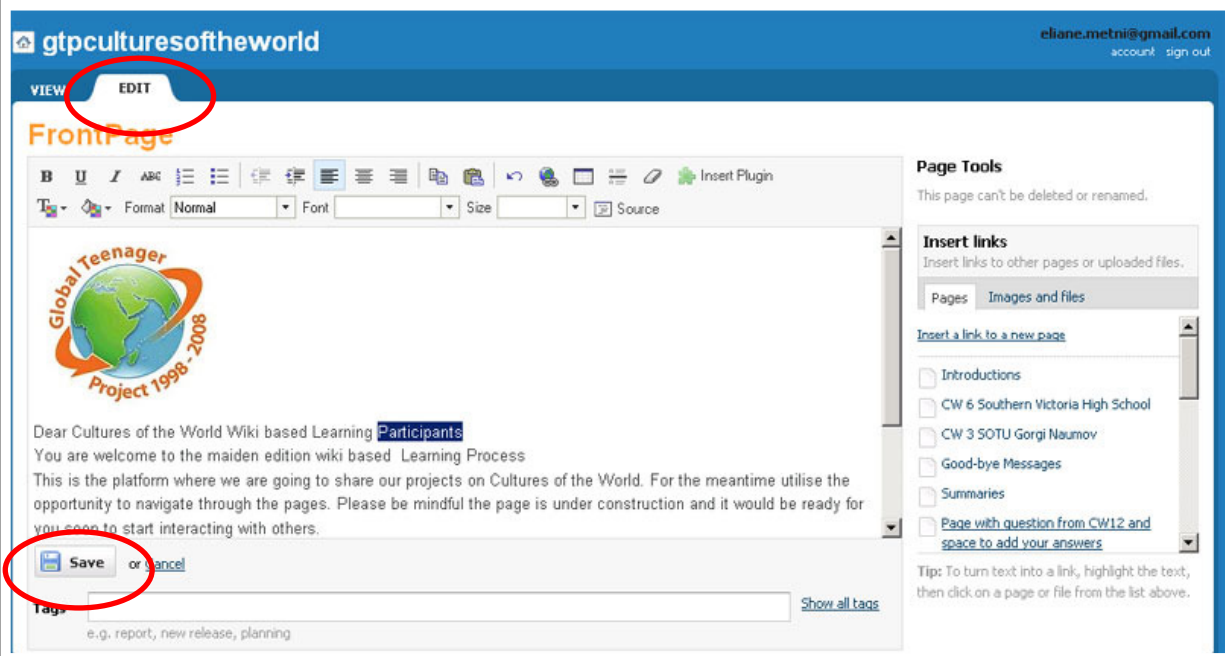

Everyone subscribed to a wiki can edit the wiki pages

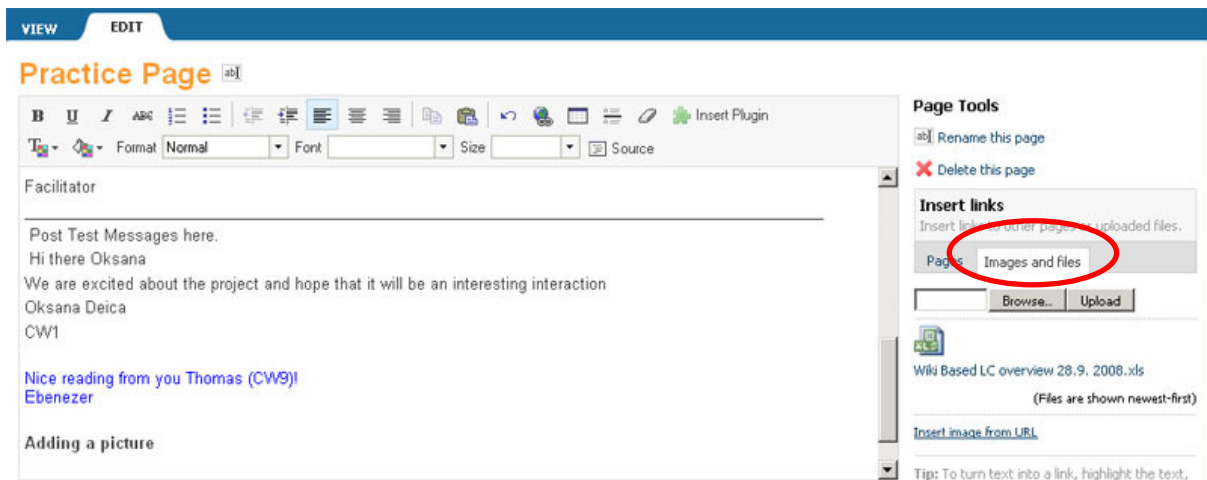

It is very simple, click on "EDIT"

A box opens: make the changes in the box and click on the "Save" button.

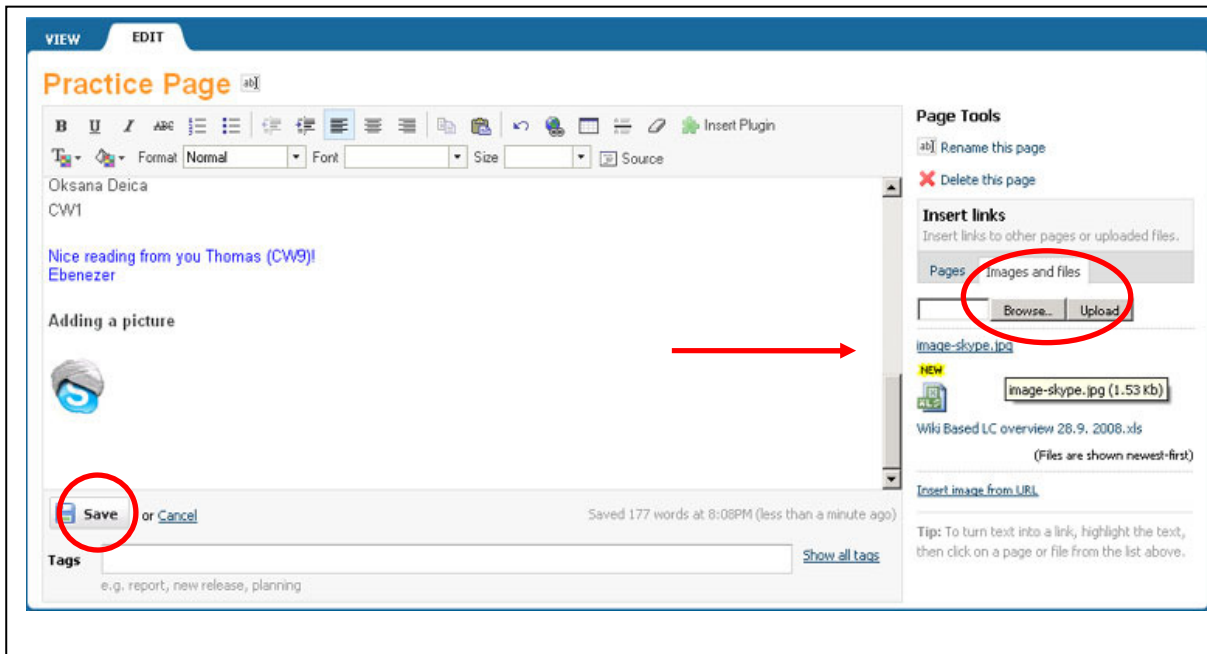

You can insert pictures
While you are in EDIT mode, click on “images and files” on the right

Click on “Browse” to locate the picture on your computer then click on “Upload”.
The image name will appear below the button and the image will appear on your screen

Remember to save your changes

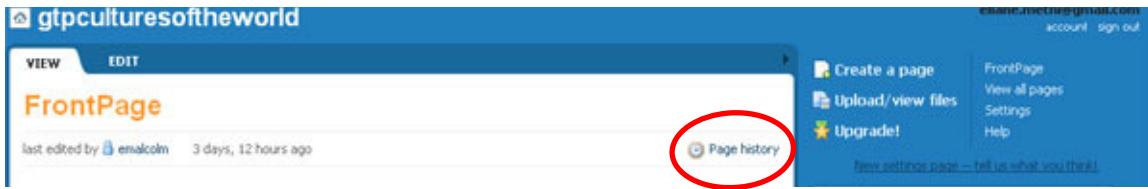

You CAN'T GO wrong

In a wiki, nothing is irreversible, even if you delete the content of a page by error you can revert to the previous version; so no one can really mess-up and it also means that you can track which class or student edited which page

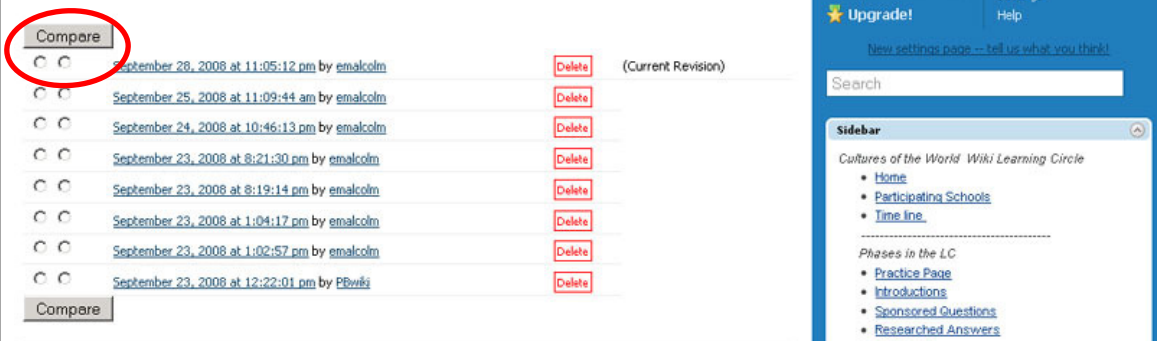

History: you can check and review all pages and track revisions

At the top of the page click on "history".

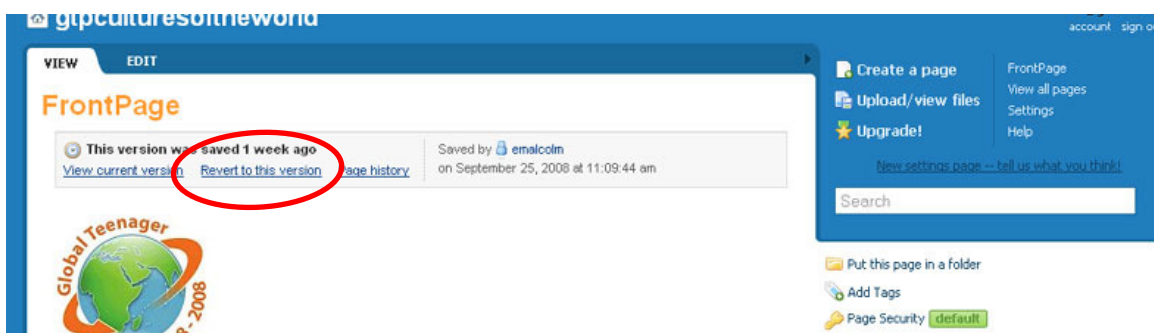

You will see all the previous versions and who edited that page. You will notice that there are 8 revisions. You can compare the changes

Revisions of FrontPage (8):

A screenshot of the 'Revisions of FrontPage (8)' page. It shows a list of 8 revisions with columns for version number, timestamp, editor, and a 'Delete' button. The first revision is circled in red. A sidebar on the right contains navigation links like 'Home', 'Participating Schools', and 'Time line'.

Write down the name of the page (you could apply/use a template). Then click on “Create page”.

A new page appears in the EDIT mode.

You MUST add information before SAVING the page.

You can insert links to new pages

The screenshot shows a wiki page titled "Test Page" in edit mode. The page content includes instructions on how to create links between pages. On the right side, there is a "Page Tools" sidebar with an "Insert links" section. This section has two tabs: "Pages" and "Images and files". Under the "Pages" tab, there is a list of pages with checkboxes next to them. The page "Introductions" is selected. A red circle highlights the "Insert a link to a new page" option in the sidebar. A red arrow points from this option to the "Introductions" page in the list. At the bottom left of the page, the "Save" button is circled in red. The status bar at the bottom indicates "Saved 56 words at 10:34PM (less than a minute ago)".

Suppose you want to insert a link to the “introductions” page
When you are in EDIT mode, select the “introductions” page from the list
The page is automatically added. Remember to save the page

You can also Insert/Edit links using the insert /edit links button

The screenshot shows the same wiki page in edit mode. The toolbar at the top contains various editing options. The "Insert/Edit link" button, which is a globe icon, is circled in red. The "Page Tools" sidebar on the right is also visible, showing the "Insert links" section with the "Introductions" page selected. The page content includes instructions on how to use the Insert/Edit link option.

You will get a screen similar to this one with the option to create to a New page, a URL or an existing page on the wiki
